

The Public Library at Tellico Village will be closed for Veteran's Day on Monday, November 11, 2013. The library will remain closed November 12th through November 14th for implementation of new software for library automation. The State of Tennessee will pay for the migration of records and the staff training. During the closure please retain your materials. No fines on materials due during this closing will be accrued.